SYNOPSIS

THE DAILY (MEAT) GRIND

Fraternal twin sisters, Seretta and LouAnne are obsessed with Johnny Depp and burnt out from two decades working as Lunch Ladies at the biggest shithole on the planet - Melvin High. Not a day goes by where they're not bullied, harassed, and humiliated by students and faculty alike.

Enough is enough. They're not taking anymore crap.

Determined to get the hell out of high school, they spend their days planning how to become Johnny Depp's personal chefs while getting away with murder by knocking off anyone that pisses them off and serving them up for school lunch to unsuspecting students à la Sweeney Todd.

Meanwhile, uptight, twat-y Home-Ec teacher, Ms. Crispin and her lisping, brown-noser minion, Kyle Maplestein, thwart their every chance at making their Depper dreams come true, all on a quest to make sure that the Lunch Ladies are stuck at Melvin High forever.

SERETTA

A love of Johnny Depp, strawberry daiquiris, and a pair of sexy, blister inducing kitten heels, voluptuous, flamboyant, Seretta Burr, 52, is the ying to her butch-y, younger (by one minute) fraternal twin, LouAnne's yang. Always squeezing herself into clothes that are two sizes too small, she considers herself a sexpot with her saggy double Ds and spends hours on her "look," concentrating first and foremost on plucking her chin hairs. Always playing the female card, she'll act terrified of the spider that's stuck in the shower, screaming for LouAnne to kill it, but has no problem shoving a severed cheerleader leg into a meat grinder. Selfish and narcissistic, she's also loveable with her over-the-top, larger-than-life passion that she showers on LouAnne "my little sissy," her one-eyed tabby "Scissorhands" (her favorite of the twelve cats they own), and of course, "The Depper."

LOUANNE

A love of Johnny Depp, Colt 45 beer, and a pair of comfy, stinky Crocs, six foot one, looming, LouAnne Burr, 52, is the yang to her glamorous, older (by one minute) fraternal twin, Seretta's ying. No-nonsense, no drama, a straight shooter, she's the only one who can calm her hotheaded sister's temper by caressing her ego and schooling her on the subtleties of not getting mad, but getting even. She doesn't believe in feeling guilty - "wasted flippin' energy" - and can seamlessly organize their giant Johnny Depp VHS collection without a hiccup after having marinated a victim of theirs in tequila in the bathtub. Methodical and lethal, she also has a heart of gold and will do anything for LouAnne "my big sissy," her mangy Calico "Jack Sparrow" (her favorite of the twelve cats they own), and of course, "The Depper."

Favorite Kitchen Tool: Hacksaw

MS. CRISPIN

Gossipy, stuck-up, Connie Crispin (dubbed “Crotchface Crispin” by the Lunch Ladies), is Melvin High’s award-winning Home Ec Teacher, the head of The Crock-Pot Club and excels in constantly one-upping the Lunch Ladies. A movie star in her own mind, Crotchface sashays through the halls like she owns Melvin High, is Principal Grossfetig’s pet, and runs a strict classroom - “Tough nuts, no pee passes.” A know-it-all who’s conservative, prudish, and overly concerned with others’ cleanliness, she’s never without her lacquered helmet hair and is obsessed with maintaining her high school cheerleader weight (106 pounds). Underneath her “perfect woman” façade she’s a wreck and gets through the day with a flask of Jack Daniels, a tube of Preparation H, and a tin of Xanax.

KYLIE

Kylie Maplestein, 14, lisp and braces, is chief brown-noser, minion, and mini-me to Ms. Crispin. A nerdy, unpopular, goody two-shoes, she loves reality TV, dreams of being kissed, and follows her only “friend,” Crispin around like a puppy. Fashion-challenged, she wears suspenders to keep her pants up, and sports a putrid orange neckerchief which says “Crock Pot Club President” around her scrawny neck. Poor Kylie just wants to be loved, unfortunately, she’s super annoying.
