

BURNT WELL REST STOP

Two am in the middle of the Arizona desert, a woman on the run pulls into an abandoned rest stop where her little girl disappears and a mother's worst nightmare begins.

Written By Clarissa Jacobson

SYNOPSIS

Two am in the middle of the Arizona Desert, a beat up Toyota fights the rain as it heads toward Hollywood and a new life. Angel, 35, beauty queen pretty met on hard times, grips the steering wheel.

In the backseat, her daughter, Lorelee, 7, whines. Lorelee has to go to the bathroom.

Now.

Distracted by her pleading, Angel almost crashes into a lady in bunny slippers who plods the side of the freeway, then disappears. Shaken, she pulls into

BURNT WELL REST STOP.

Not a soul in sight, this is where a mother's worst nightmare begins.

Lorelee disappears into the night without a trace and Angel embarks on a journey into the mouth of hell to find her.

Finally she comes face to face with the terrifying secret of the The Lady in the Bunny Slippers.

Genre: Woman in Jeopardy Thriller

Similar in tone to:

The Vanishing, Flightplan, Identity

ANGEL

HOLLYWOOD

ANGEL PRYOR, 35, neurotic and brave, is escaping an abusive relationship for a better life with her seven-year-old daughter, Lorelee. A dream of Hollywood stardom drives her belief that she can forge a new path. Passionate and strong-willed, broke but determined, she is a fighter and will face the bad luck which seems to follow her wherever she goes.

Evan Rachel Wood

Margot
Robbie

Riley
Keough

THE ENSEMBLE

Truck driver, SHANE, 34, hot trash with a ponytail, is attracted to Angel and volunteers to help her find Lorelee. He's the only one who believes her story, and insists he accompany her on the search and protect her. She trusts him, but should she?

OFFICER MENDOZA, 45, black, hulking highway patrol officer with a beer belly. Lifelong member of the force, he's earned the right to bend the rules and agrees to help Angel search for Lorelee in the dead of the night - even though it's not police protocol.

OFFICER KITRIDGE, 26, beach blond highway patrol officer, no nonsense, rule follower. A rookie who has picked up too many shifts this week and is burnt out, she unwillingly goes to help Mendoza and Angel track down Lorelee.

EVIE, 56, severe pixie cut, the waitress with the heart of gold, who's genuinely concerned for Angel and her daughter. Yet, she's overworked and has a bad side you don't want to get on.

CANDY, 35, overweight, a uniform of Keds and sweats and the daughter of Evie. She spends her days coloring placemats and warning about The Lady in The Bunny Slippers. Though mentally slow, she sees and knows things no one else does.

HARRISON, 40, salt and pepper hair, handsome, educated, is stuck at this nowhere diner due to the bad weather. He struggles to ignore the low-class clientele around him and focus on work.

LOCATIONS

CONTACT:

REBELMINX

Clarissa Jacobson / Shayna Weber

323.394.0078

info@rebelminx.com

